DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-24 are presented for examination.

Specification

2. The lengthy specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification.

Drawings

3. The drawings were received on 05/07/2004. This drawing is Figure 7.
4. New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because these drawings have some missing label, in informal format or unclear label. All of drawings are required to submit in formal format and clarity. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 2827

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

6. Claims 1-2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Perner et al. (Pub. U.S. Patent No. 2004/0085122).

Regarding claim 1, Perner et al. disclose an apparatus for improving stability of a magnetoresistive random access memory over process and operational variations comprising (Figure 2, [0008-0010]), in combination:

a current reference circuit (Figure 2, 220) for providing a reference current control signal (220) ; variable analog control circuitry (Figure 2, 240, [0063-0064] connected to receive the reference control signal from the current reference circuit, where the variable analog control circuitry generates a word current reference signal [0002] in response to the reference current control signal and further generates a source current (ABSTRACT, [0007] reference signal in response to the reference current control signal;

at least one word current source connected to receive the word current reference signal [0002]; and at least one sense current source (Figure 4a, [0012-0013] connected to receive the source current reference signal (Figures 4).

Regarding claim 2, Perner et al. disclose a bias tuning circuit comprising, in combination: a bias generator (ABSTRACT, Figure 3, 330) having a bias output; a plurality of switches having a word reference input and a mirror transistor output [0005], a plurality of mirror transistors (Figure 3, 320, 330) connected to one of the minor transistor outputs, a transistor connected in a mirror configuration with the plurality of mirror transistors having a tuned reference output; and a selector to select one of the mirror transistor to activate the transistor to set the voltage to the plurality of mirror transistors (Figure 4B, 210), [0031].

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 3-24 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 3-24 include allowable subject matter since the prior art made of record and considered pertinent to the applicant's disclosure does not teach or suggest the claimed limitations. Perner et al. (Pub. U.S. Patent No. 2004/0085122), and others, does not teach the claimed invention having a plurality of mirror transistors having a different gain, and an indicator transistor having a gain that is a multiple of transistor.
